Is it better to ask for what you want, or take what you know you can get? Indigo Cross is sure about a lot of things. She's sure about all things beauty. She's sure that her 1 million+ social media followers respect her commentary, her reviews, and her authenticity. What she's not sure about is where to take things with Northern McKinley. So after a one night stand turns into...something else, she has no idea how to proceed. Northern McKinley has never been confused about what he wants. He's always been the type of man to take what he wants from life and leave the rest. He took the music industry by storm. He's taken countless women by storm. Now, he's ready to try something different. How is it that he could finally be ready to explore relationships beyond sex, and the very woman that he wants to do that with, is only interested in the physical? What will it take to get past the barrier that Indigo has around her heart?

Mole, Water Rat, Badger, and the mischievous Toad live a quiet life on banks of the River Thames with the rest of their animal friends. But Toad tends to get into trouble, and his passion for cars eventually results in his being caught and kept a helpless prisoner in the remotest dungeon of the best-guarded castle in all the land. Dressed as a washerwoman-and with some help from his friends-Toad manages to escape the castle and begins his journey home to Toad Hall. The Wind in the Willows is a book for those "who keep the spirit of youth alive in them; of life, sunshine, running water, woodlands, dusty roads, winter firesides." So wrote Kenneth Grahame of his timeless tale of Rat, Mole, Badger, and Toad
